School Board Orders Visual Teaching Plan; Provides $5,000 Fund

Director for New Department
Will Be Employed.
Pension System Plan Is Suggested.

CIVIL SERVICE IDEA OFFERED TO BOARD

Terrell Asks Commission to Draft Amendment.
Fifty New Teachers Employed for Term.

Establishment of a department of visual education in the schools, discussion of a pension system, and the civil service regulations applicable to teachers and provide a pension system within the department, and the election of approximately fifty teachers to take up their duties next Monday, were features of the regular meeting of the board of education Thursday afternoon.

The pension proposal met the approval of Mayor Key. He moved that it be adopted. Mr. Terrell raised the point, and read from the code to sustain it, that the mayor and council must make the pension appropriations out of the city treasury and the board of education has no authority to charge the burden except under a charter amendment. Despite his point the board voted to pay the pensions of its employees, who are eligible because of long service in the department.

The board also adopted the idea of Mrs. J. E. Andrews, member of the board of visitors and chairman for Georgia of the National Security League, suggesting that the schools of the city be opened next Tuesday morning with a patriotic program. On motion of Commissioner Carl Hutcheson, the board voted to make the exercises an annual feature of opening week in the schools.

To finance the department of visual education for the first year the board authorized an appropriation of $5,000. This included money to pay the salary of a director, who is to be employed. Superintendent Sutton announced that he will search the country for the best visual education director available.

The new department was advocated by the superintendent, who stressed its value as an addition to the curriculum. The purpose of the system is to teach in the grammar and high school classes by motion pictures the subjects which the pupils are following in history, science, literature, geography and other studies, impressing the students with an eye study as well as mental study.

Three new machines will be purchased, portable machine will be available for the use of the director. Several of the schools already have motion picture machines of their own. Lantern slides as well as movies will be used in connection with the textbooks will be mapped out, and the pupils will get the mind picture from the books and the eye picture from the screen.

Commissioner Terrell proposed his civil service amendment to the charter. He offered a motion that a committee of three be appointed to draft an amendment to be introduced at the next session of the legislature.

Asks Reason for Change.
Commissioner Hutcheson asked him why he wished to change the present method of employing teachers. Mr. Terrell replied that his object was to provide a measure of guarantee to the teachers that they would not be ousted from their places simply because they might have incurred the personal dislike of a board member or somebody else of authority in the school department.

Mayor Key remarked that there are "cases of temperance" among the teachers and he didn't believe that the civil service as generally understood could very well apply in the department. "If your plan is for the purpose of keeping somebody on the pay roll it might as well be a law," he said. Pursuing the subject, the mayor stated that at the recent annual election only two teachers were left off. "A great big howl was raised about one but nothing was said about the other."

The civil service rule ought to be as well in the police and fire department, Mr. Terrell asserted.

Farce, Says Hutcheson.
"The civil service in both of these departments is a farce; you know that," interrupted Mr. Hutcheson. "If you want to get a person's job," responded Mr. Terrell, "you can make it so hot for him that he'll quit before he'll lie down and die in the department." Mr. Terrell's motion received no second, but he served notice that he will renew it at every subsequent meeting as long as he is a member of

Woman Is Fined $10 For Excess Exposure Below Her Collarbone

Zion, Ill., September 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Madden, who was recently arrested for violating the Zion dress ordinance, was found guilty by a jury today and fined $10 and costs. Mrs. Madden was charged with wearing a waist that was six inches below the collarbone. She denied that the dress was immodest or extraneous.

"A few more big leaves are needed," said Theodore Forby, city attorney. "The time has come when we must say to women, thus far you shall go and no further."

Here's a Schoolma'am Who Okays Bobbed Hair, Knickerbockers, N'Everything

Chicago, September 8.—"Knickerbockers, yes, but never with silk stockings," so says Miss Jenny H. Snow, supervisor of household arts of the schools of Chicago. "Knickerbockers are good for young women," she said. "They should always be worn with woolen stockings. I do not think, however, they should be worn in class."

Bobbed hair and visible legs were also approved. "Short skirts," Miss Snow said, "are sanitary. Rolled stockings are all right, too—they can be worn modestly."

California Property Of Ignace Paderewski Sold to Help Poland

Paso Robles, Cal., September 8.—The famous Paso Robles ranch of Ignace Paderewski, pianist and former premier of Poland, went on the block at Paso Robles last Thursday. The auctioneer's hammer fell following an offer of $168,000 for the 2,400 acres, the price being $70 an acre.

Paderewski had previously announced he was selling the ranch in order to devote the funds to the cause of Poland.

The land was bought in by a real estate firm acting for certain New York interests.

Light, Heat and Power Promised by Science From Rays of the Sun

New York, September 8.—The next great achievement of science will be the utilization of the sun's rays to provide light, heat and power. This prediction was made today by Dr. Arthur D. Little, of Boston, in an address at the International Convention of Chemists. According to Dr. Little the sun alone is worthy of scientific investigation as a source of energy. He rejected wind, waves and tides.

He said he presumed chemistry would play an important part in harnessing solar rays to supply the developing supplies of coal, petroleum and other sources of energy.

Women Plan Fight Against High Tax For Beauty Helps

Chicago, September 8.—Members of congress are hereby warned to take storm cellars. To flee while the fleeing is good, for the women of this country are ready to leap to the aid of the Fordney death knell to that most precious of womanly possessions—the complexion.

Through the Chicago Association of Commerce, women's organizations are broadcasting through the country Thursday the following warning: Imported face powders may go up 40 to 50 per cent in price.

Toilet waters, cremes, lotions, perfumes and whatnot that help keep friend husband by his own fireside of an evening, will leap to the unattainable if the proposed schedules are adopted.

REPLY TO RENDALL VIEWED IN LONDON AS CONCILIATORY

If Sinn Fein Believes Offer
Less Than Dominion
Status, George Promises
Explanation.

OFFER SEPTEMBER 20 AS NEW PARLEY DATE

Note, However, Firmly States That Irish Withdrawal From Empire
Will Not Be Tolerated.

London, September 8.—Lloyd George's final proposals to Eamon de Valera, setting September 20 as the tentative date for renewal of the face-to-face discussions of the Irish peace, are viewed as a tremendous step forward, and as bringing to a close the tedious exchange of notes preliminary to getting down to a working basis.

The note itself, slightly stronger in tone than Lloyd George's previous communications, makes at least one concession. The British premier is willing to discuss De Valera's expressed objection that the proposals offered Ireland less than dominion status such as is enjoyed by other members of the British empire, and by inference promises to explain away this objection.

"His majesty's government," the note says, "is loath to believe that you will insist upon rejecting these proposals without a conference. To decline to discuss a settlement of independence within the empire would be to deny the full freedom of national development within the empire, would only mean that you repudiate all allegiance to the crown and all membership in the British commonwealth."

"If we draw this inference from your letter, further discussion would serve no useful purpose and all conferences would be in vain. If, however, we are mistaken, as we still hope, and if your real objections to the proposals are that they offer Ireland less than the liberty we have described, that objection could be explained at the conference."

This portion of the note is, of course, a direct reply to the statement of De Valera that the British proposals were not, actually an offer of independence within the empire, but such as is enjoyed by other dominions, and is viewed as conciliatory in that it distinctly offers to make this point a matter for discussion and one which the Irish leader need not accept before entering the conference.

Lloyd George at the outset repudiates De Valera's contention that the principle of government by consent of the governed is applicable in the present instance. Declaring that this principle is a fundamental principle of the British constitution, he pleads that it nevertheless cannot be interpreted as "committing the British government to any demands" De Valera might present, "even to the extent of setting up a republic and repudiating the crown."

"So applied," he continues, "the

RAINSTORM HALTS MARCH OF MINERS

Impassable Roads Lessen
Tension in New Illinois
Mine War Area on Thursday.

Elizabethtown, Ill., September 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A terrific rainstorm broke this afternoon and tension was lessened, as all roads to the hillsides, where 800 armed miners are reported encamped, were rendered impassable and it was regarded as almost impossible for the miners to make any movement.

Early tonight, reports came into Elizabethtown that the miners were returning to their homes.

A party of 25 was reported to have gone north last night through Karbers ridge. All was quiet here today. Four machine guns were mounted on trucks and 50,000 rounds of ammunition made ready for use. Four more machine guns were due to arrive here tonight.

Governor Small today was sent a telegram by the sheriff of Hardin county declaring false stories had been circulated in Williamson and Saline counties to the effect that men have been killed and women and children beaten in Rosiclare. Outlying farmers and travelers on the roads are being threatened and held prisoner, the sheriff told the governor, and he asked that the sheriffs of Saline, Franklin and Williamson counties be ordered to prevent further invasion of Hardin county.

BUILDING TRADES WORKERS REJECT LANDIS DECISION

Chicago, September 8.—While Thomas Kearney, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, declared the decision of Judge Landis, arbitrator in the building trades war, which cuts wages from 10 to 25 per cent, would be accepted, many workmen laid down their tools here Thursday.

Emergency meetings were called by union leaders to keep men from quitting work as many organizations are disgruntled with the extent of the wage cut.

Rehearing of the entire wage question was asked by the union leaders at a general meeting.

VETERAN TO BARE PRISON CONDITIONS

Former Soldier Will Tell of Alleged Inhuman
Treatment of Doughboys in French Civil Jails.

Treatment of former American soldiers imprisoned in French civil jails, will be described to the Churches Prison commission, of Atlanta, by a doughboy recently returned to the United States, who will step here to tell his story while en route to his home in Texas.

Charles N. Walker, secretary and treasurer of the commission, has received a letter from the ex-serviceman, who claims that the conditions are inhuman and states that what he will tell the commission will be backed by affidavits and other documentary proof.

Reports of alleged rigorous treatment imposed on former soldiers incarcerated in the French prisons for violation of the civil statutes, were first brought to the attention of the commission in a communication written by H. Cleveland Cox, formerly American vice consul at Paris and a resident of the French capital, who termed that plight as pitiful and said the French government was taking no official steps to investigate or stop the methods practiced on the helpless men.

The Churches Prison commission took the matter up vigorously with the state department at Washington. Mr. Cox wrote from Paris to President Harding. In a subsequent letter to the churches commission Mr. Cox said that his communication had been turned over to the department of state and the department had sent it to the Paris embassy. The churches commission had not received a reply from the secretary of state Thursday. A copy of his letter is as follows:

"I am, Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C. 'My Dear Sir: We are endeavoring to relieve a very acute situation in France and our boys who are in the hands of the French government are being treated in a most pitiful manner. We are endeavoring to get them out of jail and are unable to leave France, they are sent back to jail, and no doubt we have several boys in France who have been in a number of times on account of this French rule."

"At the present time, when one of these boys gets out of jail, they give him four days to leave France. They have no money, not even enough to pay for postage. The consequence is when they get out of jail and are unable to leave France, they are sent back to jail, and no doubt we have several boys in France who have been in a number of times on account of this French rule."

"To Give Men Chance.
"It is the purpose of the Churches Prison commission, here in Atlanta, to take a discharged prisoner, board him, clothe him and find him a position, so as to give him a chance to come back in for."

"We are also helping the wives and children of the men who are in the penitentiary here. We are furnishing the prisoners with religious services and also furnish them with textbooks, etc."

"We are very much interested in trying to help the boys in France and are calling upon you to give us the information regarding our boys in the French jails. We would like to have the time they are to get out of jail, as well as what they were doing in for."

"CHARLES N. WALKER,
"Secretary-Treasurer."

The former service man who will talk of the conditions in French prisons, will arrive in Atlanta within the next few days, Mr. Walker stated Thursday.

GEORGIA'S CORN CROP TO EXCEED PREVIOUS RECORD

All Crops Except Cotton
Assisted by Favorable
Weather During Month of August.

BUREAU OF MARKETS ISSUES STATEMENT

Cotton Slumps to 18 1-4
Cents in Atlanta—Closes
113 to 168 Points Below
Previous Day.

BY MARION KENDRICK.
With Thursday's cotton market finally closing 113 to 168 points below the previous close, the United States bureau of markets and crop estimates in Georgia issued a statement Thursday night to the effect that the favorable weather during August had placed nearly every crop in the state, excepting cotton, on September 1st in as good or better condition than the ten-year average.

The corn crop, it was stated, promises to be the largest since records have been kept in the state, while the cotton prospect is the shortest in thirty years. As for the national condition, it was shown that the corn crop, which sustained a loss of about $1,000,000 bushels in prospective production in July, had made a gain of 154,000,000 bushels the month following.

September 1 found the crop in such a condition as to indicate 3,186,000,000 bushels. In Georgia the yield was placed at $9,805,000 in comparison with 76,500,000 in 1920. Wheat, oats, potatoes, sweet potatoes, hay (tame), rice, sorghum and peas all showed increased estimates in the Georgia report.

"Favorable weather during August," the report stated, "stimulated the growth of all crops, excepting cotton, and September 1 found nearly every crop as good or better than the ten-year average of condition. Apples are woefully short, but peaches have established a new high record for quantity, while the quality is of the kind that has brought renown to Georgia."

"Corn and cotton are also making history this year. The corn crop promises to be the largest since records have been kept, and the cotton prospect is the shortest in thirty years."

"Cotton is basic in Georgia. Optimism always follows a good price, and just now the farmers are saturated with optimism, for in thirty days they have witnessed their great money crop increase in value nearly $20,000,000."

"The indications are that more debt will be cancelled and more improvements started than were thought possible one month ago. 'Porage crops for the most part are so good in condition as to leave little to be desired. The number of hogs for fattening compares favorably with the number of about September 1, 1920.'"

The report was prepared by John S. Dennee, agricultural statistician who heads the Georgia co-operative crop reporting service. His summary of some of the important crops with comparisons (000 omitted) follows:

	1921	1920	1916-20

Big Wheat Exports To Help Business, Is Hoover Belief

Secretary Predicts Easing of Situation After Heavy
Grain Movement.

Washington, September 8.—Unprecedented exports of wheat during August should react favorably on agricultural and business conditions throughout the country, Secretary Hoover declared today. According to his reports, wheat exports last month amounted to 33,595,000 bushels, or about four times the volume of any pre-war figures for August.

Increases in the movement of wheat, Mr. Hoover said, should particularly ease the credit situation through a lessened demand upon the War Finance corporation for advances. Exports of wheat to Europe have been growing, he added, notwithstanding that the crop in European countries this year has been above normal, while the crop in this country has fallen below the average. The failure of the potato crop in Europe, he explained, has forced the use of wheat products as a substitute, and the country as a result has been called upon for additional supplies.

Recent advances in the price of cotton were regarded by Mr. Hoover as promising a betterment of conditions in the south, provided the increased levels are maintained. The price of cotton stays up, he declared, the south will not need the credit relief which has been sought and which the War Finance corporation is prepared to give.

GEORGIANS REACH HIGHWAY MEETING

Frank T. Reynolds First of Delegation to Arrive in Cincinnati—Dedication
Exercises Today.

Cincinnati, Ohio, September 8.—(Special.)—"Many years ago when Cincinnati just completed the construction of the Southern railroad I was the road's traveling passenger agent, but great as was that railway's importance commercially, I am sure that the Dixie highway means even more to the cities it connects."

The first delegate to arrive at the Hotel Gibson today for the Dixie Highway convention, Frank T. Reynolds, manager of the Hotel Ansley, Atlanta, Ga., and secretary of the Georgia State Automobile association, made that statement to a group of reporters gathered outside the hotel.

W. Tom Winn, president of the Georgia State Automobile association; W. L. Mathers, president of the Atlanta Auto club, and W. R. Neel, chief engineer of the highway department of the state of Georgia, Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, will arrive tomorrow and will be welcomed by a delegation of Dixie highway enthusiasts who have noted the great interest of Mr. Reynolds in the highway project.

"Georgia counties have this year voted $15,500,000 for road improvements, one-half of which is in connection with the Dixie highway," said Mr. Reynolds. "In Georgia, some 500 miles with its double sections, is passable and about one-half is in fine shape. A $600,000 concrete road, fourteen miles long, has just been completed in Spalding county. Thirty-four bridges, three of them a mile long, have just been finished and on September 16, we will dedicate to the memory of the soldier boys the $360,000 bridge over the Congaree river on the Dixie highway."

"Georgia this year received $2,000,000 in license fees from her 160,000 automobiles, and we will soon pass a law under which we can capitalize this amount and issue $20,000,000 of bonds for road-building."

"At Knoxville, Tenn., $125,000 was raised for the Dixie highway by the sale of the Dixie Highway Association, said the Georgia state secretary, and a similar fund, Kentucky, is now going on."

The principal dedication exercises will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Hotel Gibson and on Saturday the visiting delegates headed by the Atlanta delegation, will motor to Dayton, Ohio, on a fine stretch of the Dixie road.

Same Temperature, And Partly Cloudy, States Forecaster

Atlanta and Georgia will have partly cloudy weather, with no change in temperature, Friday, according to the local weather bureau.

Moderation in the temperature of Atlanta is evidenced by the mean temperature of 82 degrees of last Monday, as compared with the 77 degrees mean of Thursday. Although temperature is moderating throughout the United States, Phoenix, Ariz., continues to have extremely warm weather. Thursday the barometer recorded 102 degrees, the highest in the country, having a mean temperature of 94 degrees Thursday. Rain fell throughout the cotton belt Wednesday. Atlanta received a precipitation of .88 inches. The greatest precipitation was 1.13 inches at Vicksburg, Miss.

Deficit of $161,464,774

Washington, September 8.—A net deficit of $161,464,774 in the current expenses of the government for the first two months of the present fiscal year was announced tonight by Secretary Mellon in a letter to banking institutions offering for subscription combined issues of $800,000,000 dated September 15.

"By the payment of income and profits taxes in September, however," Mr. Mellon said, "there should be, according to the best information now available, a small net current surplus for the quarter."

BY JOHN GLEISSNER.
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, September 8.—Internal revenue taxes during the next fiscal year must produce $3,200,000,000, according to Secretary of the Treasury.

This amount, coupled with $800,000,000 to be derived from the tariff, will meet the government's bills. Mellon told the senate finance committee Thursday.

The committee has under consideration the tax bill, passed by the house.

The original estimates for the next fiscal year, Mellon informed the committee, were for $4,554,000,000. It was decided, he said, to reduce this amount to $4,000,000,000, round number.

"If promised governmental economies are made effective, the sum mentioned will be sufficient to meet the government's needs," said Mellon.

He added that he expected the administration to try out the economies it had outlined.

Changes Urged.
Mellon made these recommendations: Repeal of the excess profits tax for this year, making it retroactive to January 1, 1921.

Repeal of the capital stock tax payable in 1922.
A limitation of 25 per cent on the personal income surtax instead of 32 per cent as provided by the house.

In the place of these two taxes, Secretary Mellon recommended an additional corporate income tax of 5 per cent, making the rate 15 per cent as of last January 1.

The conference with Secretary Mellon marked the close of the hearings on the bill. The committee will now begin its revision, and will make an effort to have it in shape for immediate presentation to congress when it reconvenes.

Retention of the transportation tax, the tax on express companies and pipe lines, the tax on the revenue under title 5 of the revenue law which the house bill repeals were urged by Secretary Mellon. He recommended, however, that these taxes be returned at one-half the present rate during the year 1922 and finally repealed in 1923.

It also was recommended by the secretary that the taxes on cosmetics and proprietary medicines which are rescinded in the house bill be retained, but with the proviso that they be levied as a manufacturer's tax.

Receiver for Road Asserts Action Will Be Taken on Evidence to Convict of Murder.

ENGINEER WARNED OF BLAST, REPORT

Bugg Denies Claim of Strikers' Leader That Wreck Resulted From Anything But Dynamite.

Early arrests on evidence strong enough to convict those arrested on charges of murder were predicted Thursday night by Colonel B. L. Bugg, receiver of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, in the wrecking of an A. B. & A. freight train at Cascade, just outside of Atlanta, Wednesday night and in which Engineer J. T. Morris, of Fitzgerald, was killed and three negroes were badly injured.

According to dispatches from Fitzgerald Thursday night, Engineer Morris was warned before he started on the fatal run that his train would be blown up. County officials were responsible for this statement and it is said that Morris, before taking his engine, declared, "I'll die fighting."

Colonel Bugg Thursday night declared that there is

...out of Atlanta, 14 which...
...killed and three colored men...
...damaged.

Receiver Bug stated that while he had not received official report of the wreck, he had been informed that it was caused by a runaway train. He stated that every time a wreck has occurred on the A. B. & A. railway since March 5, an attempt has been made to create the impression in the minds of the public that the trouble was caused by the strikers or their friends. It is unnecessary to say we disapprove of any one, at any time, under any circumstances.

contributing in the least to the cause of wrecking a train. Such conduct is reprehensible and inadvisable. We deny any responsibility for the protection of anyone engaged in the commission of a crime of this character, but we feel sure that the strikers are innocent of any connection whatever concerning this wreck.

Orderly Conduct.

The policy of the organization in this and other strikes has been to proceed along the lines of decent, honorable and orderly conduct, and in no instance, to our knowledge, have the strikers on the A. B. & A. railway acted contrary to this policy. We do not believe there is a single anarchist among the ranks of the A. B. & A. strikers. On the contrary, we believe all the men and women now on strike have faith in American principles and institutions and are willing to make sacrifices to maintain and keep alive these principles.

Governor Hardwick has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension, arrest and conviction of the person or persons who wrecked this train, and expressed the hope that all responsible leaders of organized labor in the state would do all in their power to assist him in his efforts in this case. I desire to assure the governor of the hearty cooperation of my associate officers, the A. B. & A. strikers, and myself, in the efforts to maintain the majesty of the law and peace and dignity of the state.

The principles of the organization connected with the A. B. & A. railway strike are based on the principle of non-violence. We hold that no man or set of men are above the law and all who hold to a contrary opinion and commit crime should and will of necessity eventually be held to strict accountability at the bar of public justice.

Ask Investigation.

On Thursday night Mr. Larley and J. H. Hagedorn, secretary of the officers' committee, sent a telegram to William F. Borland, chief of the United States bureau of safety, Washington, D. C. in which they stated that, in the interest of the general public, they thought an immediate investigation of the A. B. & A. wreck should be made and entered the request that such a probe be conducted as soon as possible.

"In the interest of the safety of the public, we, as representatives of the recognized standard railroad labor organizations at Atlanta, most earnestly urge that the United States bureau of safety make an immediate investigation of the A. B. & A. wreck, and that the bureau's findings be made public."

The statement of Colonel Bugg in making the offer of $500 reward for conviction of persons responsible for the wreck was as follows:

"The receiver offers a reward of $500 for evidence to convict and payable upon the final conviction for murder, of the person or persons guilty of causing the death by dynamite explosion of Engineer J. T. Morris on the line of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway in Fulton county, Georgia, on the night of September 7, 1921."

To Spare No Effort.

"The receiver wishes to state that no effort will be spared to bring the parties guilty of this outrage to justice. Already several clues are being worked upon and no let-up will be made on this investigation until these red-handed criminals are caught and punished."

These attacks are not alone upon the lives of the railroad employees and its property, but they are attacks upon the people of the state of Georgia and upon the majesty of the law."

The offer of the $500 by Colonel Bugg was preceded by an offer of $500 on similar conditions earlier in the day by Governor Hardwick. This total of $5,500 in rewards in one case, is the largest offered in Georgia in years and it is believed, will have effect in stirring officers, private detectives, and persons who may be in possession of valuable information to make revelations.

Offer Follows Conference.

Governor Hardwick offered the state reward after a lengthy conference with Colonel Bugg. The A. B. & A. strikers were in the capitol early Thursday morning and immediately went into private conference with the chief executive.

When he came out he was asked the nature of the result of the conference. "It was eminently satisfactory to me," he replied.

"Will the governor order out state troops to guard A. B. & A. trains?" he was asked.

"The question of troops came up in the conference," said Colonel Bugg. "The governor, I believe, will have something to say on the subject."

Hardwick's Statement.

"The governor stated that he intended to offer a reward of $500, which is the largest reward ever offered in Georgia, for the apprehension with proof to convict, of the person or persons who wrecked the train at Peachtree station, last night, in which Engineer J. T. Morris and three other persons were seriously injured."

"In this connection the governor authorized the statement that he was prepared to order out state troops to guard the A. B. & A. trains to its last ounce to prevent outrages of this kind and to punish the perpetrators of the perpetration of such outrages when apprehended."

The governor further stated that he was fully satisfied that the people of Georgia are not prepared to tolerate the state to its last ounce to prevent outrages of this kind and to punish the perpetrators of the perpetration of such outrages when apprehended."

(Special)—The special grand jury to investigate the cases of the A. B. & A. strike was finally secured after summoning one hundred men. No indictments have yet been made, but it may take two days to investigate charges. Should indictments be made, it is expected that Judge Gower will hold a special trial term in the early date.

The business manager Joe Morris is expected to arrive here via Tifton Friday morning, and will be buried in the city cemetery.

He leaves a wife and two children; his mother, three brothers and two sisters, all of whom live in this city. Mr. Morris was employed as fireman up to March 5, and went out on strike with other employees of the road, but re-entered the services of the A. B. & A. and was advanced to engineer. His brother, W. Morris, is master car builder at the administration of the company. Some of his relatives are now employed by the railroad, and others are still out on strike.

TO OPEN MANSION
BIDS OCTOBER 12

The governor's mansion lease commission Thursday decided to accept bids for the leasing of the governor's mansion property October 12, the lease to cover a period of ten years, and the decision was reached at a meeting held in the governor's office at which all objections to the leasing of the property were discussed by commission members. Carl N. Gues, representative in the legislature from DeKalb county, was authorized to advertise in three Atlanta newspapers for bids on the governor's mansion property.

The bids to be advertised will offer for the property as an entirety or will offer parts of it as may be desired by possible lessees. At least one bid must be received by the deadline of October 12, and T. J. Carling, of Macon, drew up the form of advertisement which will be printed in the papers of the state.

All details of the lease are contained in the statement of the two officials which is as follows:

Details of Lease.

"Approximate size of ground, 150 feet on Peachtree street, 400 feet on Cain street and 150 feet on Spring street."

"The governor's mansion leasing commission will receive sealed bids for the property as a whole or part thereof, at the governor's office, state capitol, Atlanta, Ga., on the 12th day of October, 1921, at 10 a. m. reserving the right to reject any and all bids. Conditions are that the bidder, should specify the part of ground bid for, and the character of building and improvements he proposes to make. Said improvements to revert to the state of Georgia at the termination of the lease."

"The lessees shall be required to keep the building and improvements insured for the benefit of the state as their respective interests may appear. The lessees shall keep the building and improvements in repair at their own expense, to the satisfaction of the governor, secretary of state, attorney-general and their successors in office. Appropriate penalty for their failure to do so shall be named in the contract."

"The building and improvements shall be up to date. The material and construction of the very best in the United States. The actual plans and specifications must be submitted to the governor, secretary of state, attorney-general, and the state reserving the right to the satisfaction of the commission, during the construction period to see that the plans and specifications are absolutely complied with to the letter. Cost of inspector, not exceeding $200 per month, shall be borne by the lessees."

Must Give Bond.

"When the contract is made, and plans and specifications are accepted and made part of the lease, no changes or alterations can be made without the written consent of the governor, secretary of state and attorney-general of the state of Georgia."

"The lessee shall be required to give surety bond for the payment of the rental during the construction of improvements. The rental shall be payable quarterly in advance, time being the essence of the contract. Payments shall be made by 12 o'clock noon on the last day of December, March, June and September. Sympathizing with the downward movement of the past two days, Atlanta spot cotton was officially quoted one cent lower Thursday afternoon, 18 1/2 being set by the commercial exchange. The slump was not caused by local weakness, but was expected on account of the break in futures contracts.

Breaks 100 Points.

In New York, the market broke 150 points at the opening. This was due to overnight selling orders and no new buying in Liverpool. The Liverpool market has been at a high degree of excitement during the past few days, owing to violent fluctuations in quotations. Associated Press dispatches last night stated that "nothing like it has been experienced in recent years."

The trade and New Orleans bought freely on the early break, and after the first hour New York market became firm with an advance of 1 cent a pound over opening figures. The market closed 11 1/2 to 16 1/2 points, or from $11.50 to $16.50 per bale. The market was closed. Almost the same fluctuations were recorded in New Orleans.

German Heavy Buyers.

German interests are believed to have been among the recent heavy buyers of raw cotton. President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway, was quoted in New York as saying that the recent advances in cotton has changed conditions in the south to a point where prosperity is now evident.

"As to the situation in the south," he said, "there is every indication that the corner has been turned. The advance in cotton was the breath of wind for which the southern states have been waiting. It has been true in the past that good cotton prices affect all industries and increase buying power, which means improved business. Goods purchased by the south will mean better earnings for cotton. Improvement, of course, be gradual, but much is gained when sentiment changes."

Scouts sent out last night reported their camp fires in a clearing near an old stone furnace used in pre-civil war days to melt iron ore.

Outposts from Elizabethtown, who penetrated the hills half way to the miners' camp reported no sign of the men who yesterday told an Associated Press correspondent whom they halted on the road that they intended attacking Rosiclar. The defending forces at Rosiclar and Elizabethtown were augmented today when additional scouts were sent out to the river and volunteered to join fifty men who arrived from the Blue Grass State last night. The Kentuckians are all well armed.

the board unless it is considered favorably.

Mayor Key was favorable to the part of Mr. Terrell's plan which would provide for the school department taking care of its own pensioned employees. He moved that the department do this. Mr. Terrell made the point that it could not be done without a charter amendment, which he was asking the board to request. He read a section from the city code to sustain his point, but the board voted to pension the employees from the department's own funds, taking this burden off of the city treasury.

Withdraws Resolution.

Commissioner Carl Hutcheson introduced a resolution requesting the box at to ask the teachers to deposit their money in Atlanta banks and do their shopping in Atlanta. His motion was seconded by Mayor Key.

Such action by the board would be infringing on the rights of the instructors, stated Commissioner V. L. McCalley, who added: "I think it is high-handed even to suggest to the teachers where they should put their money." Mr. Hutcheson withdrew his resolution.

A resolution was adopted thanking the three Atlanta daily newspapers for their services in the campaign in behalf of the tax increase, which won by a large majority in the recent election.

Speaking of the election result, President W. W. Gaines stated it showed that the people of Atlanta believe in the schools an din their administration. "The schools were given everything they asked for," he said. "The new school law is in a real sense of our own making."

Can Estimate Income.

"Now this being true, we must live within our guaranteed income under the new law. We can at the beginning of the year estimate within a few thousand dollars what our income for the year will be. And we must fix our expenses for the year within that income. We promised to do that if we were given the new law. It is good business to do so. For both these reasons we must strictly keep our promises to the people."

The board authorized the purchase of an additional portable school building and its erection as an annex at the Ormeau school which was a county school until the recent annexation by the city of Ormeau park. The board also voted to buy the Judge Hammond home adjacent to the Forthwell Street school to be converted into an annex. The residence is a large structure and will house 200 pupils. It is said Mrs. L. B. Sams, principal of the school, was instrumental in the negotiations. The price paid was $5,000.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the recent death of D. W. Winfield, who was superintendent of supplies in the school system.

The board confirmed the nomination of Miss Ethel Maesens as primary supervisor. The following teachers were elected:

SHERIFF WILL AUCTION
ATLANTA SKYSCRAPER

The Transportation building, located at the corner of Forsyth and Marietta streets, and valued at three-quarters of a million dollars, will be sold at public outcry the first Tuesday in October by Sheriff James I. Lowry. An order to this effect was signed Wednesday by Judge W. D. Ellis, of the superior court, against the Brown-Randolph company, owners of the building. In favor of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, in the sum of $301,038.90.

The original amount of indebtedness to the Metropolitan Life Insurance company was $390,000. The debt was defaulted June 10 by the

FEDERAL TRAINING
STUDENT A SUICIDE

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury holding an inquest Thursday afternoon over the body of E. V. Swearingin, 32 years old, vocational training student at the government school at 25 West Peachtree street, who was found dead shortly before noon Thursday, in the front hallway of the house at 288 Peachtree street, where he boarded. Death resulted from a gunshot wound in the head.

Two letters found on the body of the man indicated that depression caused the act. In addition, it was said by friends that he had been drinking heavily of late.

One of the letters was addressed to Mrs. Eva Ours, Edgewood, S. C. and was written in an uncertain hand. It was as follows:

"Dear Friend: You have caused me to do what I am sorry for, and now I am tired of living, and am going to die today. Your friend, 'E. V. SWEARINGIN'."

Letter to Brother.

The second letter was addressed to his brother, J. H. Swearingin: "Dear Brother: Please don't think hard of anybody for anything that happens to me, for it is really better for me to get out of the world than it is for me to stay here and worry about the things I know I have done wrong. Your brother, 'E. V. SWEARINGIN'."

"P. S.—Please excuse handwriting, but I have been trembling."

Mrs. E. B. Plemons, of 54 East Alexander street, told the police that she was in the hall of the Peachtree address when Swearingin entered. She said that he seemed to be under the influence of liquor and speaking to her in a loud tone, caused her to run to the back of the house. A moment later, she said, she heard a shot and, going back, found him lying alone in the hall, apparently dead. A pistol was found a few feet away.

Police also examined J. R. Smallwood, Swearingin's roommate, and Joe Lane, a friend. The former declared that Swearingin did not spend the previous night in his room. This was substantiated by O. J. Mallory, clerk of the Peachtree Inn, who states that Swearingin spent the night there, leaving early Wednesday morning and crossing the street to his boarding house. Mr. Mallory said that he saw Swearingin draw a gun as he went up the steps to the boarding house, and that a moment later he heard the shot.

Threatened Suicide.

Police were told that Swearingin threatened to take his life Wednesday night, but that Smallwood and a man named Sanders, who was in the room at the time, persuaded him to give up the idea. According to friends of the dead man, he appeared to be mentally unbalanced.

L. H. Wall, who, with his wife, runs the boarding house where the tragedy occurred, declared that he overheard a conversation in Swearingin's room Wednesday night, in which Smallwood exclaimed, "Don't let him shoot himself."

Following the inquest, both Smallwood and Lane, who had been taken to the police station for an examination, were released.

Friends of the man say that he married in South Carolina about a year ago, but that his wife left him soon afterward, and that he has shown despondency since then.

A. M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND LEAGUE CONVENTION

The Sunday schools and Allen Christian Endeavor league of the A. M. E. church in Georgia have opened their state convention in St. Paul A. M. E. church, or which Rev. L. H. Smith, Jr., is pastor, and Presiding Elder C. A. Vinson, C. L. Williams, J. T. Wilkerson and H. H. Long are in attendance. Five hundred and ten Sunday schools and league members are in attendance. The opening address was in every way helpful. The reports from the various charges tell for themselves. Rev. K. H. Singleton, Bethel church, Atlanta; R. H. Ward, of Allen Temple, W. J. Williams, Cosmopolitan; C. G. Gray, St. Paul's; J. W. Langston, all of Atlanta, came with a delegation of 300 persons.

The north Georgia and Atlanta conferences have their delegates and other attendants here in large numbers and there is every reason to believe the attendance will be large from Savannah, Columbus, Augusta, Valdosta, Gainesville and other points.

Rev. Dr. R. V. Branch, W. E. Alexander, W. O. P. Sherman, Jr., B. S. Hannah brought 600 persons from Savannah and surrounding country. Rev. Dr. John Harmon will address the conference on the relation of the negro to labor unions.

Bishop J. S. Plummer, head of the A. M. E. church in Georgia, has called the executive board, the college presidents and thirty-eight presiding elders to discuss the matters of school and the raising of $50,000 as a special collection to the end of enlarging the campus and usefulness of Morris Brown, Paine college and Park Normal at Savannah. President John H. Lewis, Dr. A. B. Cooper, of Cutbert, and President J. Coleman Lawrence, of Savannah, will make itemized reports for the opening of their schools October 1. It is known that certain members of the board desire to have a part of the land sold at the college farm out from Macon and make more substantial purchases in and about the college.

Dr. T. J. Linton, of the $5,000,000 drive, will make the report to the board. Interest is shown in what disposition the board takes toward a piece of property purchased near the school by President Lewis, R. H. Singleton, Professor C. L. Harper, Dr. J. W. Linder and others. It is not known what the position of Bishop Plummer will be in this matter.

Presiding Elders H. B. Cannon, J. A. Hadley, J. A. Townsend, J. H. Myers and J. H. McFarland are the presiding elders of the Atlanta conference and belong to the board and will take leading parts. Rev. W. B. Lawrence is secretary, Presiding Elder D. H. Butler, L. G. Stringer, J. T. Robinson, Treasurer L. H. Smith and others are prominent members of the board.

Professor R. T. Bryant, head of the Sunday school house, Nashville, Tenn., and Dr. S. S. Morris, head of the Allen Christian Endeavor department, Norfolk, Va., and Richard D. Stinson, head of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute, speak on various topics Friday.

THREE ARE HELD TO HIGHER COURT;
DIAMOND STOLEN

Three negroes, charged with burglary, were bound over to a higher court by Recorder Johnson Thursday. Sam Andrews, who is charged with having robbed the home of Ward Fitzpatrick at 738 Piedmont avenue of more than $600 worth of clothing, and also the home of W. S. Rowe, negro, who lives at 260-A N. W. 10th street, was bound over to the Fulton Tower in default of $2,000 bond.

Annie Maud Curry, negro, widely known because of her connection with the Frank case, was also bound over. She was charged with the robbery of the home of Mrs. W. F. Linholm, of 72 Peachtree Place. A diamond ring valued at about $600 was found on her husband, Ed Curry, and was identified by Mrs. Linholm as belonging to her. Curry was bound over also.

ATLANTANS ELECTED TO WOODMEN POSTS

Memphis, Tenn., September 8.—(Special)—Lloyd T. Binford, of Atlanta, Ga., was re-elected eminent president of the Columbian Woodmen at the opening session of the annual convention of that organization in Hotel Gayoso this afternoon. He was chosen without opposition, as were most of the officers who will serve the body during the coming year.

The convention is composed of delegates from nineteen states, 45 of whom are in attendance. While the meeting is known as the annual convention of the order, it is really the annual meeting of the eminent household or executive board of the organization. The sessions are purely executive and only duly accredited delegates are admitted to the convention.

After a session which lasted until nearly 4 o'clock, the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning, when the final session will be held. At the meeting the household will decide upon a location for the national headquarters of the order, which will be moved from Atlanta within the next few months.

Tonight it seemed that the fight for the headquarters was between Memphis, Jackson, Miss., and Little Rock, although other cities were still in the race and going strong. The full list of officers elected at the meeting today is as follows:

Lloyd T. Binford, Atlanta, eminent president; Judge W. A. Roane, Jackson, Miss., eminent vice president; George W. Clayton, Atlanta, eminent secretary; F. C. Clark, Atlanta, eminent banker; L. J. Weaver, eminent auditor; Albert Howell, eminent counselor, and Rev. Charles A. Loveless, eminent cardinal.

HIGH FALL IS FATAL TO MISS HELEN HOWARD

Miss Helen Howard, of Locust Grove, Ga., died early Thursday morning from injuries received in a fall from a second-story window of the Piedmont sanitarium, at 261-7 Capitol avenue, Wednesday night.

She had been a patient at the hospital for several weeks past and was supposed to be slightly improved when the accident occurred. She was walking through the second floor hall and when reaching the end of the hall fell. It is believed, from sudden weakness. It was said that she never regained consciousness.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. K. G. Donovan, of Locust Grove, and a brother, A. G. Howard, of Wadley, Ga.

Interment will be held at Locust Grove, Ga., was announced.

Chamber Will Award
Achievement Cards
To Worthy Citizens

Any citizen of Atlanta who renders conspicuous services to the city will be awarded an achievement certificate by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, according to the September number of The City Builder, the official organ of the chamber.

A roll of honor will be established, which will include the names of citizens of the past who have accomplished noteworthy achievements in making Atlanta a leading city, and also the names of present and future citizens who receive the achievement certificate.

The plan is unique. No other chamber of commerce in the United States has inaugurated such a plan. The chamber of Indianapolis has an achievement certificate system, but it differs from the local one.

The City Builder comments on the plan as follows:

"Everyone knows, who knows Atlanta, that she has attained her place solely through her splendid leadership. Without a single natural advantage save climate, Atlanta has in only fifty years, outstripped every southern rival in the race."

"Owing almost her entire debt to the men and women who have rendered conspicuous service in her behalf, it is unthinkable that Atlanta should forget them."

"The award of these certificates will, if nothing more, serve to record the service of our present and future leaders. For more than a year, the chamber of commerce has been collecting data on the men and women of the past. When that work is complete, it is preserved in a Roll of Honor to which will be added the names of those receiving the certificate of distinguished achievement."

The inventor of a lawn mower with crimped blades claims it will cut easier and faster and handle taller grass than the usual type of machine.

An Open Letter to MAYOR KEY

Atlanta, Ga.,
September 8, 1921.

James L. Key, Esq.,
Mayor of Atlanta,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Mr. Mayor—Since January I have been in Atlanta. During my visit one thing that has impressed me is the extent to which this beautiful city of the South expresses its progressive municipal spirit in caring for the youngsters. Atlanta children are happy. And I am told that you take a personal, as well as an official, interest not only in the schools, but in the construction and maintenance of playgrounds where the youngsters spend so many healthful and happy hours.

The mothers of Atlanta, as well as its citizens generally, appreciate that you are lending your official ability and personal humanity to the welfare of the very foundation of our lasting prosperity and happiness, the substantiability of "the home."

Recently while in New York, on several occasions I viewed a really great picture. Each time I was compelled to await my turn in line before gaining admittance to the Astor Theater.

This picture breathes the song of mother love, a thing greater than sect or creed. You will find yourself strangely moved when you see it. You will find yourself smiling, and that the wet on your cheek is a tear.

You will want to do even greater things for the home than you have ever accomplished as the mayor of Atlanta, in the name of mother, whose limitless faith and enduring love have been every great man's inspiration.

When Goldwyn created this picture of Rupert Hughes' masterpiece, they gave to the world of mothers a monument that time can never efface.

This picture is to be shown in Atlanta, starting Monday, at the Howard Theater. To see it is to make an investment in inspiration, and I am suggesting that it is your duty, not only as Atlanta's mayor, but as a son, to see it. Will you?

It is called "THE OLD NEST."

Sincerely,

LEMUEL L. STEWART.

Success Is A Stranger to the Man Who Would Not Save

In 1917 and 1918 wealth flowed in Dixie—cotton reached its maximum prices and everybody had money. And, believing that such conditions would continue—people spent mythical incomes—but a change did come and because no money was saved there was loss of property, but no cash reserves—consequently their holdings became valueless and they were worse than poor.

Today good times are coming back—our staple crop is on the upward trend—people will have money again. What will they do with it? Make the same mistake—or lay aside a sinking fund for unexpected change? How is it with YOU?

Open a savings account today and lay aside a part of that profit. We will give it back to you on demand—4% interest will not let it be idle—100% safety, 4% interest is a good investment.

To Every Registered Subscriber of Atlanta Constitution a Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance Policy for $1,000

Here Are the Conditions of Your Protection

Men and Women May Be Insured

You are taking 1,000 chances a year, one chance for every time you ride in a vehicle of any sort, every time you cross a street where vehicles run. You may be killed. In that event, The Atlanta Constitution SPECIAL READER SERVICE travel accident policy would pay your family $1,000. However well off you are your family can use that $1,000.

There Were 1,529 Accidents in Atlanta in the Past 18 Months Caused by Autos, Street Cars and Railroads

Had these who were injured in vehicles been registered readers of The Constitution they would have had DEATH AND INJURY BENEFITS. Even the most careful persons are subject to the carelessness of others. You may be the most careful person in the world, that doesn't protect you if you are in a street car, on a train, in an automobile, buggy or wagon.

So The Constitution, Viewing These Accidents of the Past 18 Months

wishes to protect its readers and has bought many thousands of these policies from the North American Accident Co. of Chicago, a company licensed to do business in Georgia, and one of the largest strictly accident companies in the country. The plan which The Constitution has made has been passed upon by the Georgia Insurance Department and approved.

If You Are Hurt You Get Benefits

YOU may be hurt in a street car wreck, an automobile smash, in a runaway, where a horse is frightened. REMEMBER The Constitution policy, so cheap to you, pays you $10 a week for 13 weeks, if you are totally disabled that long. If you are disabled only five weeks you get $50, many times the price of your CONSTITUTION.

You Are Protected If You Read The Constitution and Join Its Insured Readers Club

Do Not Be Skeptical

The state insurance department has passed upon the plan and the company. The North American Accident Insurance Company has been in business 36 years.

General view of ZR-2 shortly after it exploded and dropped into the Humber river, and, below, all that remains above water now.

Twisted girders and curled wires with bits of fabric hanging to them are all that can be seen now of the wrecked ZR-2 as it lies in its watery grave in the Humber river, near Hull, England. When the big dirigible exploded and fell into the river the compartments in the giant bag remained above the water. These were cut away by the rescuers in their search for bodies. The ZR-2 broke in half and then exploded after a thirty-hour trial flight previous to its flight to the United States. Many American and British navy men on board were killed.

EVERY WOMAN who appreciates the importance of appearance must observe these facts in the selection of her wearing apparel:

—that quality has ever been, is today and will always be, the only true measure of value.

—that the art of being well-groomed lies in knowing where to buy as well as what to buy.

—that true economy lies more in spending wisely than in buying cheaply.

The woman who may be lavish to the limit of her heart's desire and the woman who would be frugal in apparel expenditures will find in ALLEN APPAREL, this season particularly, that crinity of qualities which alone make for permanent satisfaction.—"SUPREME QUALITY,"—"DISTINCT STYLE,"—"LOW PRICE."

This fact was never more clearly emphasized than, at this moment in—

The New Suits Now on Sale at $35 and $57

The New Coats Now on Sale at $35 and $59

The New Dresses Now on Sale at $33 and $44

The New Sweaters on Sale at $4.95, $8.95, $15.95

They represent at their respective prices the utmost values obtainable in any store in America. A ten-minute visit to ALLEN'S this week will prove the wisdom of buying where—

Quality Is Never Sacrificed for Price, Style Distinction Costs No More, and Permanent Satisfaction is Certain
No Matter How Low the Price.

Stocks Experience Reaction Following Sharp Advance

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, September 8.—The stock market today experienced a reaction in prices and most of the speculative leaders ended the day at a point or more below the high prices of the forenoon. This movement, however, is not considered unnatural following the recent sharp rise in the market of the past few weeks, in which gains extended from 5 to 10 points, and in the case of Mexican Petroleum more than 50 points. The opinion of some traders on the floor of the exchange is that further irregularity will be witnessed until the third installment of federal taxes, due on September 15, is out of the way.

The reaction, however, was not severe, although Mexican Petroleum lost several points from the high level of yesterday. Studebaker, another stock which had been bought by professionals, also sold off somewhat, as did Baldwin and a few of the other recent favorites. The rails were slightly lower, but the reaction for this group was small, and there had not been the large following in this class as in the case of the industrials.

Wall street learned today that the government is going over the books of the Bethlehem Steel corporation in regard to tax matters. The amount first mentioned was $50,000,000, which was only $10,000,000 below the amount named at the time the government started its investigation of the books of the United States Steel corporation. However, it can be stated authoritatively that it is only $5,000,000, and that the company has reserve set aside to take care of this amount, if it is found that the government is right in its arguments. Officials of the company are out of town, so that no authentic information can be obtained here at present.

The board of directors of the United Drug company are scheduled to meet on Saturday. According to information obtained in the financial district, the dividend will be passed entirely. The stock broke to a new low record for the year today.

Stockholders of the Western Union Telegraph company have approved the recent issue of $10,000,000 of bonds sold some time ago to bankers on a when and as if issued basis.
